BLOOD FLOWS IN WHISKEY WAR

President, Mrs. Wilson and Party Visit Shell Swept Belgian Frontier

By the Associated Press

BRUSSELS, June 19.—President and Mrs. Wilson, with King Albert and Queen Elizabeth at their guides today saw the devastation visited upon Belgium by the Germans. The first part of their visit deeply affected not only Mr. Wilson but those accompanying him. The second phase was of an entirely different character.

In the forenoon almost no residents were encountered. In the afternoon the appearance of the president at Ypres, Ostend, Zeebrugge and finally Brussels, was made the occasion of demonstrations that might have been accorded a conquering hero. With the president and Mrs. Wilson were Miss Margaret Wilson, B. M. Baruch, Queen Elizabeth, General W. W. Harts, Herbert Hoover, chairman of the inter-allied food commission, and Commander Baker.

Belgian Heads Receive Them.
The night run from Paris ended at Adinkerke, just across the Franco-Belgian frontier where King Albert, Queen Elizabeth and a party of Belgian officers waited to receive the president.

There were no ceremonies on the train other than the ordinary greetings and introductions. Through the little station building which had been elaborately decorated, the party moved to the long line of cars and began its trip into the shell-torn and as yet, abandoned country.

From time to time the cavalcade halted to permit these visitors to study at close range some bit of fortification or some piece of destruction that was unusually thorough. Neuport was the first halt. President Wilson, who was riding with King Albert, followed by Queen Elizabeth and Mrs. Wilson who descended from the next car and walked through what had been the city of Neuport to the ruins of the canal. The only houses there which were intact or even habitable were one or two frame shacks which were recently erected for the entertainment of tourists.

Examine the Trenches.
From Neuport eastward along the old line of trenches to Dixmude where the lines at one time almost touched each other, the party alighted at one or two places to examine the nature of the trenches. It then went on toward Ypres. All that part of the ride was in an almost deserted country. There were very few refugees and there could be seen little attempt toward reclaiming the soil.

It was like a dead country. Here and there a civilian was encountered but always his face expressed seemingly hopelessness. Ypres, however, showed greater display of animation. Notwithstanding the terrible destruction wrought there a few former residents have found their way back and a dozen or more buildings have been erected to serve as hotels, restaurants. They reflect the only industry in the place, catering to tourists, both official and unofficial.

A semblance of civil government has been restored in this district and the burgomaster appeared before the president thanking him for what America had done for Belgium. The British garrison and a number of British nurses added to the crowd that gathered to welcome the party. The work of salvaging war material on the Ypres battlefield is almost complete but enough remained to add to the depression of the king and his guests. Shattered, battered and broken tanks on both sides of Ypres served to justify its characterization as "the tank graveyard."

Luncheon in the Forest.
The party had luncheon in picnic style in the Houthout forest. This piece of wood, like all others in that zone, is but a skeleton of a forest. It was well back of the old German lines. In Menin where the work of destruction was less marked the people gave the party its first greeting of the day. The town was decorated and apparently all the inhabitants were in the streets.

The town of Ostend was most interesting. Mr. and Mrs. Wilson were taken out to the mole which was broken last April by the British and from there saw the rusting parts of the hulls of vessels which were sunk in the channel to the sea.

Brussels was reached at 9:15 o'clock tonight. Through the cheering crowds in the streets and past buildings bright with the flags of Belgium and the United States, the president was taken to the palace where he was presented to members of the household. He was tired with much driving at necessarily high speed over bad roads and retired comparatively early. His hosts have planned a program for tomorrow which will take up every minute of his time until late at night. During the day he will deliver at least three addresses.

"Sign the Treaty and Get Through With the Agony"

By the Associated Press

BERLIN, June 18.—"Sign the treaty and be through with agony," is the gist of the comment of the people of Berlin today.

After the wrath provoked by the moral indictment contained in the covering note of the allied answer, the residents of Berlin seemed to have resigned themselves to the inevitable.

"Rather the end with terror than terror without end," was the way one small merchant put it today.

Famous Doctor Dead.

By the Associated Press

CHICAGO, June 19.—Dr. Harry J. Haiselden, who won international note because of his decision not to operate in an effort to save the life of a child known as the "Bollinger Baby" is dead at Havana, Cuba. Word to this effect was received by his friends here last night. Dr. Haiselden had gone to Cuba several weeks ago on the first vacation he felt he had been able to undertake in twenty years. According to the information received here he was stricken while proceeding to his quarters and died from cerebral hemorrhage.

"You Should Charge Five Cents"

Mr. Marvin Brown,
Editor Ada Daily and Weekly News.

Dear Sir:

The News is a "cracker jack" paper. It is worth five cents a copy of any man's money and that is what you should charge for it on the streets. I have been taking the News for many years and it pleases me to see it making the improvements that have long been needed, and which have placed it in the metropolitan class.

Ada has wonderful future prospects and nothing can help her realize them so much as a good newspaper. May the News continue to grow in the wish of

Owen for President Club Organized With Governor Robertson Temporary Head

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 19.—A temporary organization of the state Owen-For-President club was perfected at a meeting of friends of Senator Owen here yesterday.

Governor J. B. A. Robertson, staunch friend and supporter of Owen, heads the organization as president, and Lee Cruce, former governor, was chosen vice president. The list of other officers and members of the organization includes prominent democratic leaders and virtually all high elective state office officials.

Will Be Strengthened.
This organization, which will be strengthened and developed from time to time, will devote its activities primarily to the furtherance outside the state of Senator Owen's candidacy for the democratic nomination for president of the United States from the next democratic national convention.

The numerous local Owen-For-President clubs, which have already been organized throughout the state, will work independently of the central organization, formed here yesterday which will work principally in other sections. Democratic leaders declare the Oklahoma delegates to the national convention will go instructed for Owen without asking.

Work in Other States.
The organization perfected here yesterday plans to begin immediately an aggressive campaign in the middle west to line up some of the other western and southwestern states the Owen candidacy. Because he is a western man the west generally, it is believed, will stand behind Owen.

Plans now on foot contemplate the organization of women's Owen clubs within the next two weeks. It is planned to have the women take a very active part in support of Senator Owen's candidacy.

Would Be for Wilson.
Friends of Senator Owen declare that the only development in the presidential situation that would make him not consider being a candidate would be for President Wilson to become a candidate in defense of the league of nations and the peace treaty, and in this event it has been agreed that the organization, will throw its strength behind the president.

In addition to the officers chosen at the meeting here yesterday an executive committee, including all democratic members of the Oklahoma delegation in congress, prominent democratic leaders and state officials was selected for perfecting a permanent organization. No committees, however, have been completed and other names will be added from time to time and at the general state wide meeting of Owen supporters which it is planned to hold here soon.

Roland Comes Back.

R. C. Roland arrived in the city yesterday with his family to make this city their future home. They will live at 322 West Seventeenth street, and will be at home to their friends as soon as they can get their house in order. Bob has not yet secured offices but expects to do so this week. He is temporarily staying at the county attorney's office.

Sardines and anchovies in commercial quantities have been discovered in Philippine waters.

FATTY DOES NOT BELIEVE IN SIGNS

"As a rule," Roscoe Arbuckle remarked to a newspaper reporter the other day, "I don't believe in giving advice in the form of copy-book maxims to young men who are ambitious to succeed."

"If one were to follow all the proverbs that have been written, he would get simply nowhere," the celebrated screen star continued. "For have you ever noticed that practically every old saw is contradicted by another? For instance, 'Look before you leap.' That wise suggestion is offset by 'Nothing venture, nothing have.' And so on through the list."

Each case demands a different sort of advice. I have never seen a slogan or a motto for success that could be followed by everybody who heard of it without regard to their individual circumstances and natures. That is, until now," Fatty added with a chuckle, as he halted his automobile before the entrance of a public garage midway of a residential side street.

"There's a suggestion that ought to be copied several million times and brought to the attention of every young chap who is eager to make good in any line of business or profession," the chubby comedian announced. "Read what it says there on the elevator door of that garage."

The reporter obeyed: "Don't blow your horn; ring the bell."

"Do you get it?" asked Fatty.

The reporter did, and said so.

And he thought it was worth passing along.

SENATE TO TEST ON LEAGUE SOON

MANY SENATORS FAVOR BRING-ING VOTE ON LEAGUE OF NATIONS BEFORE THE TREATY IS SIGNED.

By the Associated Press

WASHINGTON, June 19.—Plans to force a show-down on the League of Nations in the debate before signing of the peace treaty at Versailles were further considered today at conferences of league opponents.

Several proposals were under consideration. One would call for a test vote in the fight over Senator Knox's resolution proposing to serve notice that the Senate cannot accept the League covenant as now incorporated in the treaty. Another suggests passage of a resolution declaring the war at an end and still another proposes a round robin to show the strength of those opposing the League.

It is not considered likely that a definite course will be decided on until tomorrow. League opponents do not hope for a vote on adoption of the Knox resolution but they believe they can get it into a parliamentary situation where a test vote can be held in reserve as a last resort should the league supporters block all other efforts for an expression of Senate opinion before the German delegates give their decision on the treaty Monday.

Those supporting the League will fight any attempt for a record vote at this time, contending it would be misleading and would constitute undue interference with the peace conference.

No general debate on the subject was expected during today's session but Senator Thomas, Democrat, of Colorado, had given notice he would speak against the Knox resolution before adjournment.

Final Flashes From A. P. Wires

Detained Steamers Proceed.

DEAL, Eng., June 19.—The eight American steamers with cargoes of provisions for Germany which were detained here for a few days have proceeded for German ports. There was a report early today that they would be held here pending the signing of the peace treaty.

Pennsylvania Ratifies Suffrage.

HARRISBURG, Pa., June 19.—The Pennsylvania Senate today passed a joint resolution ratifying the woman suffrage amendment to the Federal Constitution. The House will vote on the measure before final adjournment next Thursday.

Wires Returned to Owners.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—After considering its action extending government fixed telegraph rates for six months, the House passed the amended Senate bill providing for the return of telegraph and telephone properties to private control and repealing the law under which those properties and cable systems were taken over by President Wilson.

American Delegation Optimistic.

PARIS, June 19.—While admitting that it has little direct or comprehensive information regarding the German attitude toward signing the peace treaty, the American delegation to the peace conference is optimistic in its view of the situation. In common with peace conference circles generally, delegates are not disturbed by newspaper reports from Germany received here of an unfriendly nature toward the revised terms.

Federation Favors Restriction.

ATLANTIC CITY, June 19.—The American Federation of Labor, in annual convention here, adopted a resolution favoring the restriction of immigration during the reconstruction period. Adopted another resolution condemning what are declared to be usurpation by Judiciary of the government's legislative and executive powers. Recommended that organized labor should disregard injunctive decrees of courts on the ground that such decrees violated rights guaranteed under the constitution.

Dramatic and Spectacular Guerilla Warfare With Moonshiners Now Spreading to Cities—Half Million Gallons Made in This Country Monthly.

By Edward M. Thierry.

WASHINGTON, June 19.—War to the death is raging at home. Whiskey is the issue.

Blood is being shed in mountain battles. Soon cities will be battlegrounds. It's the moonshine war.

Drama and melodrama enacted in France are duplicated. And all the customary thrills are the war's by-product.

Uncle Sam is fighting the moonshiners. Revenue officers, armed men who are the greatest sharpshooters alive, are pitted against an unnumbered army of lawless mountaineers—desperate men, who fight an Indian style of warfare in defense of what they believe to be their God-given right to make whiskey out of the corn they grow.

The hunted moonshiner lies in ambush and kills his pursuer without a qualm. It's spectacular, picturesque and bloody—this great civil war in which Old John Barleycorn is the central figure and which no peace treaty, no league of nations pact, can stop. Even airplanes are to be used to augment the government forces.

The law puts whiskey in the down-and-out class July 1. Prohibitionists tell us the country goes dry then.

But anybody who knows anything about the moonshine war will tell you that Uncle Sam is fighting a losing battle against the moonshiners.

The United States will not go dry July 1. Even if prohibition agents could seize and destroy the millions of gallons of legally distilled liquor laid away for arid days there would still be plenty of illicitly distilled whiskey to slack the national thirst.

Moonshiners are making at least half a million gallons of moonshine whiskey a month right now!

They've been making whiskey illicitly in increased quantities month by month ever since the legal distillation of whiskey ceased on September 8, 1917.

After July 1, with the nation theoretically dry and prices sky high, the output of moonshine will increase enormously.

It's a Long War.
Armed revenue agents have been waging the moonshine war for generations. Uncle Sam's men have killed and wounded hundreds of moonshiners. They have sent hundreds to the penitentiary and have destroyed thousands of "stills."

OBJECTS RETURN OF RAILROADS

MEMBER INTER-STATE COM-MERCE COMMISSION SAYS
IT WOULD MEAN IN-CREASED RATES.

By the Associated Press

OLD POINT COMFORT, Va., June 19.—Return of railroads to private operation during the readjustment period would occasion a necessity for increased freight rates in this country "the apex of which no man could predict," Robert M. Woolley, member of the inter-state commerce commission declared in an address here today before the annual convention of the Virginia Bankers' Association.

Owing to the cut in railroad revenues caused by diminishing traffic during the readjustment period and other conditions, said Mr. Woolley, the inter-state commerce commission would be forced to grant an increase in rates if the roads were returned to permit them a fair revenue. For these readjustment conditions would prevail, he said, regardless of whether operation of the roads was retained by the government or relinquished to the owners.

"Isn't it far sounder economics," said Mr. Woolley, "to take care of any deficit from carrier operations out of the national treasury whose coffers are replenished through taxes levied where they can best be borne, than to force by their return an increase in rates?"

Ordered to Surrender.

JUAREZ, June 19.—General Gonzales in a proclamation last night ordered all civilians to surrender their arms and ammunition to the military authorities within 48 hours.

By the Associated Press

FABENS, Tex., June 19.—Major Adolphus Roffe, commanding the Fabens, Tex., patrol base, announced early today that the camp fires to be seen on the Mexican side of the border were believed to be those of small bands of Villa men, who were scattered by the American cavalry when they crossed Sunday night and were reassembling in small groups preparatory to rejoining Villa. Major Roffe said he expected no raid on that part of the border although he was prepared for any eventuality.

OUR UNCLE SAM AIDS FOUNDRY WORKERS

WASHINGTON, June 19.—The United States Training Service is preparing for early issue a series of twelve books, each intended as a model or guide upon which may be based the organization of training for workers in certain trades. One of these books will deal with foundry work.

To insure the best results in the preparation of this course on foundry training the director of the Training Service asked a group of foundry experts to come to Washington for a conference of constructive criticism of the course. The conference was duly held and the book on foundry training, which will soon be ready for public distribution, will thus embody the fruits of the most expert knowledge, promising to be a fundamental contribution to the foundry industry in America.

The United States Training Service does not conduct training departments, but it does prepare methods of training in industry and is willing at all times to aid manufacturers in putting these methods in operation. The Service seeks by every means at its command to teach not only the technical details of production operations but to give to the worker the general information he should have to make him an intelligent, efficient employee.

This company has from three to four hundred stockholders scattered over Pontotoc, Coal, Murray, Johnson and Garvin counties. With the new combination its success is assured. 6-18-6td 1tw

Labor Refuses To Order July Fourth Strike

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., June 19.—Following a sharp debate during which several of the delegates almost came to blows, delegates to the American Federation of Labor convention here adopted a resolution refusing to endorse the general strike called for July 4 as a protest against the imprisonment of Thomas Mooney and censuring the Mooney defense committee for its alleged efforts to disrupt the American Federation of Labor.

The resolution, however, directed the executive council of the American Federation of Labor "to exert every effort to bring about a new trial for Mooney through recognized processes."

Organized labor struck a blow at the bolshevik elements in its midst when the American Federation of Labor in convention adopted a resolution denying American labor's recognition of America's soviet.

Willard-Dempsey Battle Likely to Be the Last For Good Many Years to Come

By OTTO FLOTO.

The Willard-Dempsey championship fight will probably be the last in this class for some years unless it should be a draw—which is unlikely. If Willard should win decisively, there will be considerable incredulity as to any normal human being found to whip him, and there will be considerable scarcity of promoters willing to offer him another $100,000.

If Dempsey should win by a knockout, who are the "logical contenders" outside of perhaps one colored heavyweight? Dempsey has drawn the color line. It has been said that—win or lose—Dempsey will box George Carpentier, the French heavyweight. That would be a pitiful sort of match.

Carpentier, who served for the duration of the war with the army of his country, is reported to be badly out of condition. He probably would be an easy victim for Dempsey or any other nearly-good heavyweight in this country. It would be out of tune with the fitness of things to have a man who has been a real fighter in a real fight knocked out by a man who was not even mildly interested in the greatest of all fights.

A match for Carpentier against either Willard or Dempsey would demonstrate that there is absolutely no sportsmanship to professional boxing. Pugilism has shown more lives than a cat, but a match of this sort would crush out its ultimate existence. The fight game in all classes has gone stale for the lack of fighters and the lack of matches that would create any interest. Take the lightweight class, that once boasted nearly a couple of dozen logical contenders for the championship. The present holder of the lightweight title is so far above any of the contenders in the class that there is no interest left in the division.

The same thing will happen to the heavyweight division after July 4. One of the two men who enter the ring on that day will come out of it the greatest of modern heavyweights. The interest in the class will die through lack of reasonable competition.

When Jess Willard defeated Johnson at Havana the interest remained because there were numbers of people who did not believe that it could be done on the level. Consequently there was enough skepticism to draw a very profitable house to see the Moran-Willard bout. After that some were satisfied that Willard has developed into a real heavyweight boxer. Then along came Fred Fulton and some of those who remained skeptical insisting that Fulton had a chance. If the war had not intervened

Willard would have fought Fulton. He wanted to fight—for a price—and he confided in me that he believed he could dispose of Fulton with a punch. But the chance of soft pickings there vanished when Dempsey put Fulton out in a couple of punches. Dempsey's admirers clamored for the present match. Richard, who is a shrewd grabber of big money on differences of opinion in regard to pugilistic matters, made the match—and we shall see what we shall see.

If Willard wins I doubt that he will ever enter the ring again. He does not care for the game and enters it only for the money. Dempsey, if he should be the winner, undoubtedly will engage in more fights, but with whom and to demonstrate what? There will never be a "mixed" heavyweight bout in the United States. The Jeffries-Johnson bout settled that. Jack might emulate the late John L. Sullivan, going about the country offering to stop them all if the times permitted. But there are not many states where he could make this liberal and reasonable offer in these effete days. Moreover there are more opportunities for easy money for champions in these days, and Dempsey probably will take the easier and more profitable course.

CONCERTED RUSH ON NEW YORK DRAM SHOPS

NEW YORK, June 19.—New Yorkers, who like their drinks to have a kick, and their name is legion—are making a concerted rush on the retail liquor shops these days in order to stock up for the long dry spell that is predicted to begin July 1. One house reported a sale of $20,000 worth of champagnes and other stimulants to one customer today while orders of from $5,000 to $10,000 are quite common. Total sales for three days were put at $250,000.

Many of the big clubs are offering their liquor stocks for sale to members, with the privilege of private lockers in which to store supplies at owners risk. The Crescent club, Brooklyn, offers to rent lockers for four quart capacity at $5 a year "unless forbidden earlier by law."

OIL IS BUILDING OKLAHOMA PERMANENTLY.

"And our world will all be rosy
When our well comes in!"

For out here in the West, where the world is yet untouched by the mould of an ancient and mildewed commercialism, where the founts of Nature have not yet been drained to dryness, we don't wish for our ship to come in. We wish—and are sure in wishing—for something more practical, something we know is going to happen, for our well, that oil well, to come in, and with its coming, gush dollars into our pockets and of those about us. For this is the age of oil, and this great Western country the land of plenty in the production of the world's most forceful fuel.

To beware of the house that is built upon the sands, is an ancient bit of advice. But that maxim says nothing about oil derricks—and wisely. For upon the oil sands of Oklahoma, and the great region of the prairies, is being founded a myriad fortunes that will endure forever, that will lead the states in this region to greater, more wonderful accomplishments than ever were dreamed of before the first spray of oil filtered through the air with the shooting of the premiere well. Through the fortunes that are coming from the deep sands are cities being founded, are great industries being built, fame for the Oklahoma region being spread throughout the world. The East is learning that the West is great beyond all dreams, that out here on the plains are the great deep pools of fuel that turns the wheels of industry throughout the commercial universe, that the West is to the East as sunshine is to the growth of vegetation.

Every day in the great canon-like streets of New York's financial district men of riches hurry and scramble for stocks representing a share in the West's tremendous wealth of oil. Every day the puffing of engines, the working of the rigs, the penetration of the drills, in field after field, add to the great flood of dollars streaming upward from the earth. Oil is building the West, building for the future, even as gold built for the future in 1849—but on a greater, vaster scale.

For oil is building in homes, in happiness. It is building for the man with a dollar, as well as for the man with a million. It is building permanently, wonderfully—for a newer and greater West!

In the death of Hon. John N. Shepler, editor of the Lawton Constitution, the state has lost one of its foremost citizens, and the newspaper fraternity of Oklahoma has lost one of its progressive members. Mr. Shepler has been in poor health for some time and was at his old home at Greencastle, Missouri, where he had gone to attend the funeral of his father, when he was stricken with paralysis and died last Tuesday.

ARDMORE FOR U. S. CAPITAL.

It is apparent that the state press is jealous of Ardmore. To date not a single democratic newspaper has seconded the motion of the Idabel Democrat-Record that The Ardmoreite be made the official state paper of the democratic party of Oklahoma, nor so far as we have observed has any newspaper endorsed our suggestion for an elimination convention at Ardmore to determine which one of the 217 Oklahoma democratic editors now running for the United States senate against Mr. Gore of Lawton shall be kept in the race to the bitter end—the bitterer the better. Though the Ardmore editorial senatorial candidate has threatened deliberately to withdraw from the race unless such an elimination convention be held, every other editorial aspirant to the senate—the whole kit and caboodle of the other 216—continues to ignore our very reasonable and entirely modest hint.

We can forgive, if not forget, such ignoring (or ignorance) on the part of our esteemed contemporaries in relation to the two "slights" mentioned above. We lay it simply to jealousy and acknowledge the right of others to be jealous of The Ardmoreite to a certain extent. But there is another matter of present interest in relation to Ardmore which we are utterly unable to forgive. The other day we suggested facetiously, that if it be found feasible to remove the national capital from Washington to some city more centrally located, Ardmore might consent to be a candidate for that high honor. Now the howl is started. The brethren of the press simply can't conceal their jealousy of the predominant prominence of the city of Ardmore. Listen:

"The Ardmoreite suggests that the national capital be moved to their town. Har! Har! Har!"

That, beloved, is the horse-laugh of Marvin Brown, editor of the Ada Evening News. Imagine, if that be possible, a national capital named Ada! Imagine Ada, D. C., as the most important date-line in the world's press! Haw! Haw! Haw!

Now listen again: "Well, Ardmore might make a good capital, but we expect if they decide to move the national capital to Oklahoma, Ardmore would have lots of competition."

That, ladies and gentleman, is a sly bid from the Lawton Constitution for the city of Lawton as the capital of the United States of America! We are for Lawton as the national capital if the Lawton Constitution can induce its non-esteemed contemporary, the Lawton News, to consent to draw straws to determine whether Scott Ferris or Tom Gore shall be president of the United States.

Our choice for the national capital, if Ardmore be eliminated, is Idabel, where resides our only friend.—The Ardmoreite.

Twelve obsolete battleships of the United States navy are to be used as targets or sold as old metal. They include the "Indiana," "Iowa," "Massachusetts," "Kearsarge," "Kentucky," "Illinois," "Alabama," "Wisconsin," "Maine," "Missouri" and "Ohio." How those names bring up memories of brilliant battles of the Spanish-American war, in which these vessels won their fame and glory. The "Oregon" goes to its name state as a relic.

Strikers and returned soldiers took possession of the Provincial legislative chamber at Winnipeg and demanded the resignation of Premier Norris and his cabinet on the ground of "incompetency to deal with the strike situation." Premier Norris told the crowd he would retain his office, and work to improve industrial conditions.

Twenty-six out of twenty-eight governors of prohibition states, according to interviews made public by "dry" forces, declare prohibition has been a benefit, and favor its continuance. Boston prohibitionists gathered interviews, which included mayors and chiefs of police. Seventeen of nineteen such officials said crime had decreased notably.

High prices in Paris are going down. A military hut, turned into a temporary store, and under the supervision of a Secretary in the Ministry of the Food supply, has shocked retailers into a semblance of reason. At the hut, householders may buy staple articles at cost plus transportation.

The United States stood back of Great Britain to the extent of $4,260,000,000, according to figures announced in the House of Commons giving the present indebtedness of the mother country to this republic.

The State Press

Muskogee Times-Democrat: Immediately after the league is formed we should decide whether the United States of the World is or are.

Muskogee Times-Democrat: Some people have decided that they can afford a good summer vacation trip, as their creditors can't locate them while they are traveling.

Oklahoma City News: It's a small world after all. If you don't believe it, try to rent a house.

Oklahoma City News: Tom Marshall has written to Ban Johnson that he has received his annual pass to the Washington ball park. Good. Anything to keep Tom away from the senate.

Oklahoma City News: The old fashioned railroad that used to call itself "the air line" will have to drop that phrase or be suspected of trying to fool the public.

Fighting Anarchy.

Muskogee Times-Democrat: There is no more delicate and difficult problem than that of how to fight the anarchistic propaganda. Many people feel that they solve the whole thing merely by a campaign of drastic severity against the bolshevist agitators.

Unquestionably the government should go the limit, and spend money without stint to run down the men who have perpetrated the recent bomb outrages and other acts of violence. Also when a man by his talk or his writings directly advises others to commit such outrages, he has violated the laws and should be punished.

There is a twilight zone in which it is very difficult to say whether a man has committed a crime worthy of imprisonment. What shall be done with the agitator who merely predicts revolution unless his crank ideas are followed, but who does not directly advise any violent acts?

Also what shall be done with the fool who gets up on a soap box and advises the people to rise and seize the government by violence? As it is obvious to any person of the least intelligence that the people control the government now, and can put socialists or bolshevists into all offices any time they want them, this advice is so silly that there is such a thing as making too much consequence of it.

Hot air does not usually do any damage except when confined.

The best way to meet anarchy is by educational methods. It takes time, but it is surest in the long run. Show the working man by common sense and patient reasoning that he would suffer the most under bolshevism, and that the present structure of society gives him far more than he can get in any other way, and there will be no danger from the anarchy propaganda.

Play With a Moral.

David W. Griffith's superb picture "A Romance of Happy Valley" which is the attraction at the Liberty theatre this week, is a photograph with a distinct moral. It is a story of simple folk, but its treatment is so powerful as to make it a screen classic whose power for good is far reaching and effective. The various roles are charmingly portrayed, the principals being Lillian Gish, Robert Harron, George Fawcett and Kate Bruce.

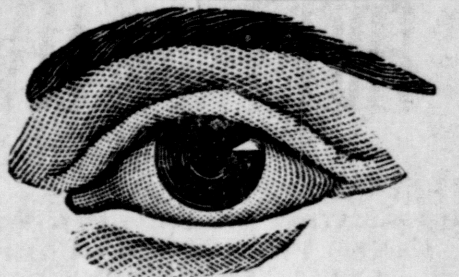

DR. DEEN RESIGNS AS COUNTY CHAIRMAN

A Romance of Happy Valley

A GRIFFITH PRODUCTION

It's a page from the book of life. It's one play you should not miss.

THE STORY:

Nestling in the hills along the Ohio, is Happy Valley where life is lived in calico gowns and denim breeches, John L. Logan, a prosperous farmer, runs a boarding house. His wife is a religious devotee, while his son, John L. Logan, Jr., is a growing lad who learns of the delights of city life from a chance boarder and who as a result, wants to go to New York. John is in love with Jennie Timberlake, who has metropolitan notions as regards dress and who seeks to monopolize John's attentions. Mrs. Logan prays that her boy may be converted and his idea of going to the wicked city be banished forever from his mind. She is successful, for John accepts the faith and becomes engaged to Jennie. But while plowing one day, he backslides and defiantly announces that he is going to New York and after one year, when he hopes to have acquired his fortune, he will return to claim his bride. He goes to New York, and vainly devotes his inventive genius to the perfection of a jumping frog. He fails to return home at the end of the year, but nevertheless Jennie is primed up awaiting him. Eight years pass before John returns. Meanwhile affairs have gone badly at home, but mother and Jennie are there to give him a warm welcome. Happy Valley becomes happy once more, but how, the picture itself reveals. The finish is a remarkable one in every respect and the story truly is filled with thrills, expectancy and irresistible heart appeal.

Sheep Bone Toy of Small Orientals.
Without the bone of a sheep, that eternal, ubiquitous playtoy of all the East, the children of Asia would be absolutely without an amusement device. Go wherever children play—Osmanlis or Kurds, Armenians or Arabs, Druses or Greeks—and you will see the sheep bone represents everything from a doll to a sword, from a pasha's horse-drawn ornamental standard to a British gunboat, from a mosque to a church.—Red Cross Magazine.

Cosmetic Art.
From the locks of some of the women when it turns cold, it would be a good proposition to sell different shades of powder for hot, warm, cool and cold weather. They say that they sell different shades for day and night—white for the daytime and blue for use under artificial light, so, why not for different degrees of temperature as well? However, probably some bright genius has already thought this up and patented his compound and it may not be well advertised as yet.—Grit.

Physicians' Oath.
A part of the Hippocratic oath is as follows: "Whatever, in connection with my professional practice, or not in connection with it, I may see or hear in the lives of men which ought not to be spoken abroad, I will not divulge, as reckoning that all such should be kept secret." This oath is respected by every court in the world, and rarely indeed has it ever been broken by a reputable physician.

Wolsey's Disinfectant.

Eggs on Bushes.
Herring that flock along the coast of southern Alaska in vast "schools" lay their eggs in bunches in very shallow water near shore, attaching them to floating seaweeds or rocks. It is a habit of which the native Indians take advantage by throwing quantities of brush into the water at the spawning season. Later, they collect the brush and scrape off the fish eggs, drying the latter in the sun for food.

Preliminaries Staged For Big July Fourth Bout

By the Associated Press

TOLEDO, O., June 19.—Fifty-four scheduled rounds of boxing preceded the 12-round heavyweight championship contest between Jess Willard and Jack Dempsey here July 4. It was announced today by Ad Q. Thatcher, matchmaker of the Toledo Athletic club.

Thatcher was commissioned by Tex Ricard, promoter of the Independence Day contest, to arrange the preliminaries and he scheduled three bouts of eight rounds each and three of ten rounds. The first match will start at 10 o'clock in the morning and the boxing will be almost continuous until Willard and his youthful challenger climb into the ring.

The complete card of the preliminaries follows:

10 a. m.—Tommy O'Boyle, of Toledo, against Solly Epstein, of Indianapolis, eight rounds at 116 pounds.

10:40 a. m.—"Swop" English, of Toledo, against "Whirlwind" Wendt, of the United States army, eight rounds at 135 pounds.

11:30 a. m.—Johnny Lewis, of Toledo, against Tommy Long, of Detroit, ten rounds at 135 pounds.

12:30 p. m.—Johnny Rose, of Toledo, against Battling Balliere, of the United States navy, eight rounds at 135 pounds.

1 p. m.—Jock Malone, of St. Louis, against Navy Nelson, of Joliet, Ill., ten rounds at 145 pounds.

2 p. m.—Frankie Mason, of Ft. Wayne, Ind., against Carl Tremaine, of Detroit, ten rounds at 116 pounds.

Napkins.

Table napkins were in use long before some of the other accessories which we consider indispensable today. Before forks came to be known, men had to use their fingers in preparing their food; hence the ancient common habit of frequently passing the basin of water and its accompanying napkin for wiping the hands. It now seems incredible that forks were not customary until the seventeenth century.

Ant Development.

Ants have developed nothing remotely resembling industrial organization. Many unnecessary conclusions have been drawn from comparing neuter (undeveloped female) ant workers with the unmarried women of modern industry. A comparison with child labor would be truer. For ant workers are always "hungry" forms—stunted creatures who have no economic opportunity to grow up—who are forced by family necessity to venture out for food before they reach full growth.

Mixing Tobacco.

The mixing of light and dark tobacco is a thing of comparatively recent date. A man from London found his pipe tobacco was nearly exhausted, so he cut up a cake of chewing tobacco and made a mixture. He continued to smoke the blend, and, meeting a friend who was in the trade, he gave him a sample, with the result that the first smoking mixture was soon before the public.

Pearl Long Valued as Jewel.

The pearl is the only jewel worn as nature formed it. All the precious stones—diamonds, rubies, emeralds and the rest—have to be cut before they can be worn. But the pearl is worn just as it is taken from the oyster shell. It is among the most ancient of jewels.

PREPARATIONS FOR MORE WAR!

BRITISH PAPERS THIS MORNING
FEATURE WAR PREPARATIONS
SHOULD GERMANY
REFUSE TO SIGN.

By the Associated Press

LONDON, June 18.—Morning newspapers feature British naval and other preparations in the event of Germany refusing to sign the treaty of peace and print under big headlines several unofficial reports which were current during the night.

The grand fleet has again been placed on a war footing, it is reported and ready to sail for German waters at a moment's notice. It is also stated that the dirigible R-34 has been diverted from her trans-Atlantic trip, equipped with bombs and machine guns and has been sent or is going to the Baltic, while her companion aircraft the R-33, similarly equipped, left Wednesday night for a cruise, which will include the Kiel canal.

A telegram from Copenhagen reports the arrival there of a dozen cruisers and several destroyers prepared to enforce the blockade.

According to some reports the R-34, which is now over the Baltic, neither armed or loaded with bombs, but is undergoing a final trial preparatory to her Atlantic voyage. The Daily Sketch says the R-34 was over Berlin at 4 o'clock Wednesday afternoon.

YALE AND HARVARD
MATCH GARS FRIDAY

By the Associated Press
NEW LONDON, Conn., June 19.—Swinging down the historic rowing lanes of the Thames the eight-oared crews of Yale and Harvard will battle again tomorrow for the inter-varsity championship, after a lapse of two years due to the world war. Bronzed by the sun and brawny from months of training, the oarsmen of the rival universities are scheduled to meet in three races amid a pre-war setting which has made the Thames regatta the rowing classic of the New World.
Notwithstanding the titanic upheaval which wrenched nations from the paths of peace and prosperity, the aquatic traditions of the Harvard-Yale boat races held firm and tonight on the eve of the fifty-first regatta the scene is a replica of a decade ago. Anchored along the edges of the racing lanes are scores of pleasure craft, their lights casting mellow streaks across the course where tomorrow varsity blades will churn the water into foam.
Ashore, graduates and undergraduates—the forerunners of Friday's thousands of spectators—are gathering for a revival of the night-before festivities for which New London has been famous in the past. Automobile parties from New Haven, Cambridge, Boston and New York are rolling into town bearing the crimson or blue banners of Harvard and Yale while the town-folk, eager to welcome again the collegian after a two-season hiatus have festooned the century-old seaport with the colors of the competing institutions in keeping with custom long since established.

MUSKOGEE TO HONOR
RETURNING HEROES

MUSKOGEE, June 19.—Muskogee's first big organized demonstration in honor of her returned soldiers and to celebrate the vanquishing of Germany, will be given on Wednesday afternoon, June 25. It will be a monster affair in which the entire city will take part.
Mayor Wisener declared that he would be glad to proclaim that as a half-holiday, and urges the people to co-operate in putting over the biggest celebration the city has ever witnessed.
Although no organized committees have been formed, the work of forming the various organizations and committees into active work will begin at once.
It was decided that this great demonstration, for all the soldiers, sailors and marines who fought in the war, would be more fitting and more successful than an impromptu and haphazard celebration for members of Company D, who are coming in this afternoon from Fort Worth.
"The Francis Chautauqua program promises to be extra good this year. Be sure to attend, June 23, 24 and 25." 6-18-71

Bowman to Battle
Wade For Nat'l
Committeeman

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 19.—George L. Bowman, of Kingfisher, secretary of the democratic state central committee, has announced his candidacy for the post of democratic national committeeman. The committeeman will be chosen at the convention here in 1920.
Tom L. Wade, of Marlow, present committeeman, also has announced his intention of being a candidate to succeed himself.
WON IN G. O. P. COUNTY.
During territorial days Bowman was twice elected county attorney of Kingfisher county on the democratic ticket when the county had always been strongly republican.
During the campaign for the nomination of president in 1912, Bowman was active in organization of Woodrow Wilson clubs over the state, and was elected president of the state-wide Woodrow Wilson club of Oklahoma and was elected by the democratic convention in 1912 as a delegate-at-large from Oklahoma to the Baltimore convention.
HIGH IN CONVENTION.
At the democratic state convention in 1914, Bowman was unanimously elected permanent chairman of the democratic state central committee and has been an active member of this committee for a long time.
At present he is engaged in the practice of law at Kingfisher, where he has lived for twenty years and been active in all public affairs and helped to build the new state. Since statehood in 1907 the democrats have had three national committeemen and those three have come from the east side of the state. Bowman believes that by such active service in his party for many years, that he is qualified to represent the democrats of Oklahoma as a member on the national committee.

Notice to Contractors.
Sealed bids will be received by the board of education of the city of Roff, Oklahoma, up to 1 o'clock p. m., June 30, 1919, for the construction and completion of a High School building. Real Estate Notes

J. G. Witherspoon, the popular real estate man, had the following to say to a News reporter yesterday when asked his opinion of real estate conditions in Pontotoc County at the present time:
"This is a remarkable time in real estate circles at present. None of us seem to know just what is going to happen. I am certain of this though, that farm land will never again sell for as low a price as it has in the past. I fully expect to see all land sell for at least 20% more than it has heretofore. This can be done and still the land values in Pontotoc county will be very much lower than land of corresponding value in Bryan county where I lived for several years. The reason land in Bryan advanced so rapidly was the farmers in the high priced section of Texas just across the river came over to buy Bryan County land as they realized it was as valuable as land in their state.
"One man I know of, who lives a few miles south of Ada, and has 100 acres of good land, two years ago was offered $60 an acre for it. This spring he has been offered $100 an acre for the same land and will not sell. Other instances of increasing values might be stated. It seems the farmers realize that values in this county are steadily increasing and it will be harder to get valuable farm land in the future than it is now. They are all holding their land."

The Ad Man
For The Evening News

walked into our Garage yesterday and asked the question: "What is service?" Our reply was something like this: "As the word 'service' applies to a Garage, we interpret it: To treat every person who comes in with the utmost courtesy; to extend to him every accommodation within our power; to give information along any line concerning the automobile, how to care for one, how to get the greatest amount of use with the least wear. In fact, to not let anybody leave our place without taking with him the thing he came after. And last of all, to see that a customer is so well treated that he will forget there is anybody else in our line of business. THAT'S SERVICE."

For instance: We cater to the ladies. We invite them to drive up to our front door and ask for free air and water. And moreover, we insist on serving them. We have men whose business it is to answer front-door calls of this kind and see to it that air and water are served without the customer alighting from the car. You don't have to soil your hands or clothing when you come to see Fleet Cooper for air and water—and both are absolutely free. THAT'S SERVICE.

And when a car is left here over night we charge for it—that's business. But we see that air and water are supplied and that everything is in running order. THAT'S SERVICE.

We charge more for storage over night than do other garages. Likewise we GIVE MORE for the money. THAT'S SERVICE.

When you want to know something about your auto, where to get this or that or anything else you want that pertains to it, call on us and get the information free. THAT'S SERVICE.

S. O. S.

FRIENDS AND PATRONS:

The statements I have made show you that some of my troubles result from the demand of ice delivery in such small quantities, that the price we get does not pay for the service—you want your ice delivered by noon, which means that we must have enough delivery outfits to cover the entire city in the forenoon, thus doubling the quantity that would be needed if the deliveries were distributed throughout the day, and doubling the cost of service.

The Government Food Administration, after investigating these matters, recommended the elimination of number of wasteful methods in order to avoid the necessity of increasing the price of ice, especially to working people and small consumers. These recommendations will work to your benefit, and among them are these:

That ice be distributed upon coupons to all customers as nearly as possible.

That a large part of the small sales be made from local ice boxes, or at the wagon instead of attempting delivery into houses.

These rules enable them to maintain service, and give good values, and benefits the customer, and are based upon years of experience of the people in the industry.

Also, special deliveries to residences which cost always more than the amount realized from the sale are entirely discontinued except in case of sickness.

This is the help we ask of you now: namely, BUY COUPONS, and for minimum quantities of 25 pounds—as much more as you can afford.

ROPE TIGHTENING ON NECKS OF HUNS

BITTER DENUNCIATION OF GERMAN'S CRIMES MADE BY PREMIER CLEMENCEAU OF FRANCE.

PARIS, June 19.—Like a judge who before modifying a sentence, wishes to impress upon the prisoner the full weight of his guilt and pound into his brain the fact that the leniency is really undeserved, George Clemenceau, premier of France and president of the peace conference in a letter of nearly five thousand words, which "covers" and explains the revised treaty handed to Germany, lashes the vanquished empire with a bitter, stinging indictment lest its former or present masters, deeming clemency weakness, rally once more for an attempt to turn defeat into triumph. History's most portentous peace document, now revised beyond revision is thus accompanied by the most aggressive, the most flaying diplomatic note on record. It is indeed a "covering" letter, for it covers all the sins of the foe, all his dark deeds before and during the war, and all the reasons why he has been condemned, and must suffer for those sins. It is, at the same time, a sharp rebuke to the Teuton peace parliamentaries for "utterly failing to understand the position in which Germany stands today."

Clear Statement.
This fact, the French premier explains, forces him to open his letter with "a clear statement of the judgment of the world which has been formed by practically the whole of civilized mankind." Then he enumerates, not under so many headings, but in smooth and eloquent sequences, the long series of crimes to which, he says, the foe must turn if he seeks the reason for the stern justice of the peace.

Germany, he says, tried for years before the war to dictate and tyrannize over a subservient Europe. She taught her subjects the doctrine that might was right. She armed feverishly by land and by sea and spread the falsehoods that her neighbors were jealous of her.

Europe in Ferment.
She developed a wide spread system of espionage and intrigue all over the world.

She kept Europe in a ferment by threats of violence. She encouraged Austria to declare war on Serbia at 48 hours' notice, fully aware that the conflict would become general.

She conducted the war in a savage and inhuman manner. She violated Belgian neutrality and systematically terrorized that country's inhabitants.

She Killed Women.
She was the first to use poison gas.

She was the first to bomb and shell defenseless towns.

She struck at her enemies' women and children.

She started the submarine campaign, "with its piratical challenge to international law."

She "drove thousands of men, women and children with brutal savagery into slavery in foreign lands."

She allowed barbarities against her prisoners of war "from which the most uncivilized people would have recoiled."

She caused the death of 7,000,000 men, and injuries and suffering to 20,000,000 others.

She did all this—"to gratify her lust for tyranny by resort to war," and her conduct "is almost unexampled in human history."

"SWAT THE SCRUB BULL."

To Be Occasion for Celebration by Breeders at Okmulgee.

The anniversary of the day upon which the last scrub bull was banished from the Bald Hill Hereford farm, Okmulgee, Okla., will be celebrated by a big old-fashioned barbecue, a breeders' judging contest—to which everyone interested in the progress of the Hereford cattle industry of the state is cordially invited—and a sale of registered white face cattle on Tuesday, June 24, according to a statement of Harry Hart, proprietor of the Bald Hill outfit 14 miles northeast of Okmulgee.

And that the event may receive the prestige due the sounding of the scrub bull's requiem, governor J. B. A. Robertson, Harry H. Rodgers, Frank M. Gault, late president of the state board of agriculture, John A. Whitehurst, Gault's successor, and a number of prominent live stock breeders have been invited to make addresses appropriate to the occasion. A silver loving cup will be presented to the winner of the breeders' judging contest. Other features are being prepared for the entertainment of visitors by L. J. McClure, Oklahoma City, sales manager and director of ceremonies, and William Gentry, director of publicity of the Oklahoma Improved Cattle Breeders' Ass'n.

Col. Ed Herrick, Apache, Okla., has been engaged to officiate on the sales block on the strength of the belief that Oklahoma has reached the point when it is no longer necessary to call upon auctioneers of other states to cry sales.

Herrick will be assisted by H. L. Burgess, Chelsea, Okla.

Cattle in the sale will be selected from the Harry Hart Bald Hill Hereford farm, animals strong in the breeding of Columbus, Fairfax, Anxiety and Perfection. A fleet of automobiles will convey visitors from the Parkinson hotel, Okmulgee, to Bald Hill.

RUSSIA UNABLE TO PAY U. S.

FIFTY MILLION DOLLAR LOAN DUE, BUT POOR OLD RUSSIA IS NOT ABLE TO PAY.

NEW YORK, June 19.—The imperial Russian government's $50,000,000 6½ per cent three year credit, maturing yesterday, will not be paid, according to a statement which was received from S. Ughet, charge d'affaires ad interim and financial attaché to the Russian embassy at Washington and made public here today by the American banking syndicate, which subscribed to the loan.

In his letter to the syndicate, Mr. Ughet stated that "due to circumstances beyond control, I shall be unable to provide funds," which implies that the loan will go by default.

The Russian charge d'affaires announced, however, that he had been in communication with the all-Russian government at Omsk, under Admiral Kolchak, and while he had received no reply as yet, "published accounts of Admiral Kolchak's communications to the allied governments clearly state that the external obligations of the Russian government issued prior to November, 1917, will be recognized."

TEXAS MAN'S SPEECH ONE OF SEASON'S BEST

Dr. C. S. Meek of San Antonio, Texas, who for the last six years has been superintendent of schools in that city, was the speaker at the Normal this morning, his talk being the second of a series to be delivered during the summer term.

The subject Dr. Meek used today was "Democracy in the Public Schools." It took only a few minutes for the speaker to convince his hearers that he knew his subject in every detail and so wonderful was his exposition that he held their attention as if by magic. His address was one of the best ever delivered at the Normal on any occasion.

Dr. Meek is an educator of national renown. He has been principal of the high school at Terre Haute, Ind., superintendent of the schools at Boise, Idaho, and superintendent at San Antonio, Texas. In addition he has done a lot of platform work and comes to Oklahoma to speak because of his great interest in education in the great southwest.

In his talk at the Normal today, Dr. Meek laid stress on the necessity of getting away from the old idea of teaching children such subjects as Algebra, Latin and Geometry when they were not fitted for such subjects and instead to prepare them for the work they are to do in life. He said that heretofore the schools had prepared children for college, where only five per cent of them went, but now we are learning to prepare them for life, which interests the five per cent as well as the ninety-five. He said that democracy in education means the greatest good for the greatest number and this is what teachers must work for.

Dr. Meek will speak again tomorrow on "The Eccentricities of Teachers," and will be here for three days in his lecture work.

BAND ORGANIZED AT MEETING LAST NIGHT

The band men met at the office of the county clerk last night in answer to an appeal in yesterday's paper and decided to organize a permanent band for this city. The chamber of commerce was also represented at the meeting and a proposition was submitted to the commercial body asking for regular support for the band.

The boys had agreed to go to Allen on the Fourth of July, but at last night's meeting they decided not to go to Allen, but to stay at home if the people wanted them to play at celebration in Ada. Mr. Garner says they had rather play for nothing for the citizens of Ada than to receive a hundred dollars by going to Allen.

OKLAHOMA SANATORIA TO BE LOCATED SOON

OKLAHOMA CITY, Ok., June 19. Selection of sites for location of three tubercular sanatoria in the state will be made some time this week, Dr. A. R. Lewis, State Health Commissioner, said today. The Health Commissioner will visit Tallahassee and Tallahassee, in the eastern part of the state, during the next few days, these places having been suggested as favorable. Clinton, in the western part of the state, has already been visited, and it is possible that one will be located there. Two of the institutions are for white people and a third will be for negroes. Citizens of Boley, an exclusive negro town, have asked that their institution be located there. It has been suggested that this one might be located in Oklahoma City, using the buildings of the girls' industrial home, after that institution is moved somewhere else. The State Health Commissioner makes recommendation as to where the institutions should be located.

Bates-Griffin.

The wedding of Charles T. Bates and Miss Theodora Griffin took place yesterday morning at 10:45 at the home of the bride's mother, 320 East Twelfth street. The wedding was very quiet, a few of the friends of the young couple being present. Rev. C. C. Morris, pastor of the Baptist church, performed the ceremony.

Mrs. Bates is the daughter of Mrs. M. L. Griffin and is one of the most popular young ladies of the city. She has made her home here for the past two years. Mr. Bates is one of the proprietors of the Ada Music company. He came here something more than a year ago and was proprietor of the Bates-Chaney garage. He served as an auto mechanic in the war and when discharged again took up his residence in our city. He was one of the men who established the Ada Music company which business has been a marked success. The happy couple have many friends both here and elsewhere who wish them happiness.

After a honeymoon trip to Oklahoma City they will be at home to their friends in Ada.

Holley-Porter.

Mr. Irvin P. Holley, known to his friends as "Pat," and Miss Pauline Porter, of Denver, Colo., were married at Muskogee, last Saturday, June 14th. They arrived in Ada Tuesday and are receiving the felicitations and good wishes of their many friends.

Mr. Holley is one of the best known young men in Ada. He is the son of Dr. F. Z. Holley and is connected with his father in Holley's drug store. His bride is an accomplished and attractive young lady of Colorado well worthy to make "Pat" a life companion. They will make their home here.

IMPROVED UNIFORM INTERNATIONAL SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

(By REV. P. B. FITZWATER, D. D., Teacher of English Bible in the Moody Bible Institute of Chicago.)
(Copyright, 1919, by Western Newspaper Union.)

LESSON FOR JUNE 22

LOVE.

LESSON TEXT—1 Cor. 13. GOLDEN TEXT—Now abideth faith, hope, love, these three; but the greatest of these is love.—1 Cor. 13:13.

ADDITIONAL MATERIAL—Lev. 19:18; Deut. 6:4, 5; John 10:10, 11; 1 John 4:7-21. PRIMARY TOPIC—How to Show Our Love.

JUNIOR TOPIC—Whom We Should Love and How.

INTERMEDIATE TOPIC—The Greatest Thing in the World.

SENIOR AND ADULT TOPIC—The Strongest Bond Between Men and Women.

The best gift of the Holy Spirit is the love of God shed abroad in our hearts. Not all can teach, preach, work miracles, speak with tongues; but the gift of love is within reach of all. The "more excellent way" of the last verse of chapter 12 is the way of love. Love is not a mere sentiment or emotion, but a mighty dynamic which transforms the life, expressing itself in practical service to men.

1. The Pre-eminence of Love (vv. 1-3).

It transcends:
(1) Speaking with tongues. For men to possess the loftiest eloquence, to be able to speak in other languages, and to be lacking in love is to be as sounding brass and a tinkling cymbal. Pleasing and powerful speaking is desirable, but to love is better.

(2) The gift of prophecy. To disclose the events of the future, to be able to unfold all mysteries—of nature and providence—is good but to love is better.

(3) Faith of the most vigorous kind. Such as would remove mountains.

(4) Philanthropy of the most generous sort, prompting one to surrender all earthly goods for the sake of the poor.

(5) Heroism which leads even to martyrdom without love is profitless.

II. The Attributes of Love (vv. 4-7).
1. It is long-suffering and kind. It means not only to bear long but to be kind all the while. Patience is a remarkable virtue. It is much easier to bear long than to show the spirit of kindness all the while.

2. It is free from envy. Those who love are free from that envy which is engendered because of the good, or the success of others.

3. It is free from empty boasting. Love has as its supreme aim the doing of good to all and does not seek their admiration and applause.

4. It is well behaved. Love is polite and mannerly. It knows how to behave at all times.

5. It is unselfish. Love seeks the good of others and is forgetful of self. 6. Does not give way to passion. It is not quick tempered. It is not easily aroused to resentment.

7. It takes no delight in evil; does not impute evil motives to others; is not suspicious, but forgiving.

8. It rejoices in the truth. It sympathizes with that which is true and has a common joy with it.

9. It beareth all things—that is, it increases itself with its own mantle and shuts all evil out.

10. It is trustful, hopeful and firm.

III. The Permanence of Love (vv. 8-13).

Prophecy, as prediction, will be fulfilled; prophecy, as teaching, will be brought to an end in the day when teaching is not needed. "And they shall not teach every man his neighbor, and every man his brother, saying, Know the Lord; for all shall know me, from the least to the greatest" (Heb. 8:11; cf. Jer. 31:34). Tongues shall cease, for as the languages of earth were caused by God's judgment for sin so shall Christ's redemption bring the nations back to one tongue. Knowledge shall be done away with by a wider and nobler intelligence. The twilight shall be lost in the day. Childhood shall be lost in maturity, for at Christ's coming we shall see him face to face and be like him. Love will always abide, for God is love.

The School of Gentleness.

With what infinite gentleness the Great Physician ministered to bruised reeds and broken hearts! What tender names he gave them! "Son!" "Daughter!" He was never rough, never brusque, never impatient, never in a hurry! His tender approach was part of the cure. His very touch had healing power. He handled the burdens of men in such a way as to immediately make them lighter. Many a broken heart was strangely comforted by his presence even before the life had been made whole. Most surely the hospital work of our Saviour was a school of gentleness!

Do Not Shun the Light.

The man who shuns the light forfeits his own final peace of heart. He who refuses to face his worst faults the possibility of finding his best. He does not solve the question of his sinfulness; he shelves it.—Percy C. Ainsworth.

Silence.

If the prudence of reserve and decorum dictates silence in some circumstances, in others prudence of a higher order may justify us in speaking our thoughts.—Burke.

of whiskey—has doubled in the south since the passage of state prohibition laws. Moonshiners—otherwise known as "wildcaters"—have their chief habitat in the Appalachian mountains. With them whiskey-making is a tradition, a matter of heredity—a birthright. They cared nothing about the old tax laws.

Bullets and Buckshot. Bullets and buckshot pumped into them for decades by Uncle Sam's revenue army have failed to change their convictions. They shoot back, venomously—but they don't shoot quite as straight as the revenue men.

Fortunes are going to be made in the moonshine industry. One 100-gallon still can turn out 150 gallons of whiskey a day. Mountaineers now get $6 to $7 a gallon; city still owners $5 to $6 a gallon.

Retail prices in the south run all the way from $8 to $15 a quart. That means a present maximum retail selling price of $9,000 for one day's "run" of a 150-gallon still.

On the underground booze "exchange" it is predicted that after July 1 the price will soar as high as $150 a gallon "f. o. b." the still! They make mountain moonshine out of corn meal, mostly. City "wildcaters" usually use sugar and molasses.

The Monthly Production.

Tom Curtis, champion revenue raider of Georgia, estimates that in Dawson county, Georgia, at least 12,000 gallons of whiskey are produced every month! Using this figure as a percentage basis as against the stills actually found and destroyed in that county, it is a safe estimate that at least half a million gallons of moonshine whiskey are produced every month in the United States.

Fifteen hundred men are now in the revenue service. Every moonshine raider is a sharpshooter. They risk their lives daily. Death traps are laid for them by moonshiners. They are shot at from ambush and they fight thrilling gun battles.

The worst moonshining district in the United States is in the Blue Ridge, Cumberland and Piedmont mountains of the Appalachians, and stretching through parts of eight states—Kentucky, West Virginia, Virginia, Tennessee, Alabama, Georgia and North and South Carolina.

In the cities the worst is yet to come. The moonshining industry in the cities is still in its infancy. The moonshine war has only begun.

Dirigible Flight Postponed.

LONDON, June 19.—The flight of the British dirigible R-34 to America is definitely postponed until Germany decides what she intends to do regarding the peace terms.

At the Ada Playhouses

American.
"The Shepherd of the Hills" will be shown again tonight. This is the last day of this wonderful performance and if you fail to see it you will pass up one of the greatest treats of the season. A large crowd attended all through the day yesterday and it was the talk of the town this morning. It is a photograph never to be forgotten. The great Nazimova is coming in "Eye for an Eye."

Liberty.
"A Romance of Happy Valley" is the bill for tonight. It's a page from the Book of Life, and a wonderful story. It's a Griffith production which needs no expiation. It's an old fashioned story up to date.

Court News

They say that no news is good news so the news of the court house today is very good indeed.

At the city hall the mayor reports the jail wide open and no cases on the docket. He told the reporter that we might put in the personal column that Cecil Morton and Barton Wright had gone to the harvest fields in the western part of the state. The mayor says they released these men from durance vile with the understanding that they would go to the fields and go to work.

There was nothing to report from any of the officials at the court house. Not even a marriage license was issued and the only case filed was a civil suit arising over borrowed money.

Picked Men at Stadium.

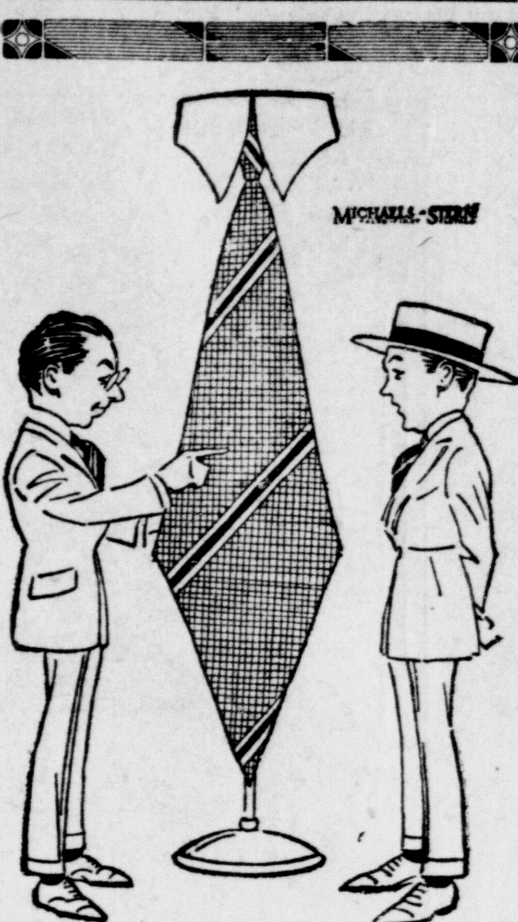

By The Associated Press.
PARIS, June 18.—The regiment of picked men from the American third army which was organized to act as General Pershing's body guard on his projected visits to London and Brussels has arrived here from Coblenz and will vie with picked French units at the opening of the Pershing Stadium on Sunday. The regiment is composed of 3,000 men chosen from all the divisions of the Third Army.

Advice to Young Men

If you wore Blue before and was the life of the party, try green this time with the repartee and give your hostess a color vacation.

Young men calling should be careful not to repeat the same color act at each performance.

For instance: A Green tie Wednesday—a Tan Friday and perhaps a gray Sunday evening helps wonderfully to assure a steady welcome.

two bond issues, one in the sum of $10,000 and one in the sum of $25,000. The $10,000 issue is for the purpose of purchasing street improvement machinery for the repair and upkeep of the city's paving. The $25,000 issue is for the purpose of purchasing a site for a market square. The city has options on two locations, one of which will be purchased immediately and made into an up-to-date market place. Both issues carried by a vote of nearly three to one.
